

Targeted Team Development

From MIME Solutions Ltd.

Our business centered approach to team development focusses on specific concerns and is tailored to help your team identify and solve their own issues

For teams that:

- have recently been formed
- need strengthening
- have developmental issues
- have communications difficulties or personality conflicts

We provide customised sessions to diagnose root cause issues, then initiate internal and sustainable solutions.

MIME Solutions utilises a combination of in-house, outdoor off-site and conference venues to effectively deliver customised simulation packages.

We help your team to help themselves

Customer feedback:

'(MIME's approach is) an effective way of engaging individuals and motivating them to figure out their own solutions.'

'The whole group are taking more responsibility and the performance of the team has improved considerably.'
